

WHO DO WE NEED ON BOARD?

An ambitious personality with a passion for sales: Your tasks will include the independent processing of offers and orders in close cooperation with our external sales force and the sales department.

You are the link to our customers, providing expert technical and commercial advice on the phone, conducting professional price negotiations and managing highly complex projects.

Your organizational skills are in demand when it comes to structuring and managing customer enquiries. You coordinate delivery dates, process claims and actively maintain our customer relationships.

DO YOU SEE YOURSELF HERE?

Contact: Saskia Schmitt

saskia.schmitt@deloro.com

You have successfully completed a degree in industrial engineering with business studies or have trained as a technician and have a strong affinity for sales. Professional experience in B2B customer management is a plus.

Your profile is characterized by a high level of service and customer orientation. You are committed, communicative and enjoy working in a team. We require very good written and spoken German and good English skills. Further language skills are an advantage. You have a good command of MS Office products and ideally you already have experience of working with an ERP system and SAP.

WHAT ARE WE OFFERING YOU?

We focus on freedom, trust and responsibility for your tasks. You can shape your working conditions individually, because we value every individual in our team. Further training is very important to us, because we want you to always have up-to-date knowledge and expand your skills. We support all initiatives relating to innovation and are actively involved in artificial intelligence. We offer a sound company pension scheme.

We have many other advantages for you so that the working atmosphere is particularly pleasant. Parking spaces and catering are also provided on site. We also celebrate successes together.
