DELORO WEAR SOLUTIONS, THE FULL METAL ANTI-AGING EXPERT, IS LOOKING FOR A DEDICATED, ENTHUSIASTIC AND TALENTED PROJECT MANAGER, TO BE AN ASSET TO OUR DYNAMIC TEAM.

WHO DO WE NEED ON BOARD?

As a quality manager, you are our architect for top quality and efficiency. You manage cross-departmental projects in the key areas of power plant technology, nuclear and defense. Your expertise ranges from technical capability to the handover of production parts. In doing so, you navigate confidently through customer-specific standards such as nuclear safety culture and ASME.

With your keen eye for detail, you develop innovative solutions and derive them from audits and analyses. Your work contributes significantly to the continuous improvement of our team. You are our pioneer for quality and excellence. Together we are shaping an outstanding future.

DO YOU SEE YOURSELF HERE?

As an experienced engineer/technician in quality assurance, you not only have specialist knowledge, but also a vision for quality assurance. Your project experience and mastery of methods such as RCA, 8D, Six Sigma and LPA testify to your skills. Your in-depth knowledge of standards such as ASME/RCCM underlines your expertise.

Not only your excellent German and English skills are convincing, but also your structured way of working and your confident use of MS Office tools and modern quality assurance software (CAQ). Your high-quality awareness and solution orientation make you an invaluable member of our team. Knowledge of French is an additional advantage.

WHAT ARE WE OFFERING YOU?

We focus on freedom, trust and responsibility for your tasks. You can create your working conditions individually, because we value every individual in our team. Further training is very important to us, because we want you always to have an up-to-date knowledge and expand your skills. We support all initiatives relating to innovation and are actively involved in artificial intelligence.

We offer a sound company pension scheme. We have many other advantages to make the working atmosphere at our company particularly pleasant. Parking spaces and catering are also provided on site. We also celebrate successes together.
